EDUCATION, MASTER OF ARTS

School of Education

Admissions are suspended while our faculty review the program's current topical focus and requirements. We are not offering the Master of Arts General Track for this admissions cycle.

Graduate Study

The Master of Arts in Education provides a course of study for examining research and theory about learners, teachers, schools, and related social institutions. The program prepares professionals to conduct research about the education of children, youth, and adults in a multicultural society. Graduates may assume leadership positions in school districts, state education agencies, and private organizations concerned with instructional research, policy and practice.
